BANKER HURT IN A RUNAWAY

E. H. Payne, of the Peoples
National Bank, Suffers
Fracture of Skull

ACCIDENT AT MORRISTOWN

Fracture May Not Prove Fatal
as Injured Man Rested Well
This Afternoon

Earl H. Payne, president of the Peoples National bank, of this city, was injured in a runaway accident at Morristown last night, and suffered a dangerously fracture of the skull.

He was returning about ten o'clock from a visit with a friend and when coming down the hill on the east of Morristown, into the village, his horse suddenly began to kick, and started away at a breakneck speed down the steep hill before he could get him under control. At the foot of the hill the buggy struck a lamp post and Mr. Payne was thrown out of the vehicle, alighting on his head and right shoulder, fully fifteen feet away, on a rough stone pavement.

He laid in an unconscious condition until he was found by the night watchman, who heard the crash.

Mr. Payne was carried to the offices of Drs. Bass & McCray, where his injuries were attended to immediately. It was some time before his identity was known, and the family notified in this city. On receiving word of the accident from Morristown, his brother, Ralph Payne, accompanied by Dr. J. O. Sexton, hurried to that place.

Although he is resting easy today, no attempt will be made to remove him to his home in this city for at least several days.

The fracture he sustained is on the back of the head, and the attending physicians are unable at this time to determine the extent of his injuries, but it is thought that if no complications arise he will soon recover. Late this afternoon, Mr. Payne was not suffering any pain whatever from the fracture, and the many bruises on his body.

FALL HORSE SHOW IS DECLARED OFF

Streets Would Not be in Condition to Hold One This Year

The merchants who contemplated giving a Fall Horse Show this year have declared the movement off on account of the condition of the downtown streets at this time, owing to the sewers being put in. However, it is the intention of those who boosted the movement to make early preparations next year for a big fall show.

COUNTRY HOME BURNED DOWN

Country Domicile of John L.
Clark Totally Destroyed
by Fire Yesterday

SUFFERS LOSS OF $4,000

Nothing Saved From the Fire But a Piano, Though Neighbors Fought Valiantly

The home of John L. Clark, of Center township, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon while the family was away. Nothing was saved but a piano, all the household effects and clothing, save what they were wearing, being destroyed in the conflagration.

It is thought that the fire started from the breaking of a rubber pipe, which connected a hot plate to the gas mains in the house. The neighbors soon arrived on the scene after the flames were discovered, but the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to extinguish it or save anything from the burning building. The house was recently remodeled at an expense of several hundred dollars and the loss to the family is a great one as no insurance was carried on either the house or the household goods, and Mr. Clark estimates his loss at from $3500 to $4000.

One of the keenest felt losses of the fire was the burning of a number of family heirlooms, among them being a highly prized gold watch that belonged to the elder Clark's grandfather.

TEACHERS MUST HAVE SCHOLARSHIP

Superintendent Cotton Says
Just Everybody Can Not Teach School

In the Monthly Bulletin No. 1, issued from the State Board of Education, State Superintendent Cotton discusses the new school laws, which will be of interest to those who aspire to teaching and to many old teachers in Rush county. He says in part:

"The law fixing the minimum scholarship and professional training for those who enter the calling of teaching after August 1st, 1908, gives Indiana a new standard. It simply means that after that date everyone who becomes a teacher in this State must have scholarship equivalent to that of high schools, recognized by the State Board of Education, and in addition must have given at least twelve weeks to a study of pedagogy. This is the first time in the history of education in Indiana that an educational qualification has been required. Under the old laws any boy holding a diploma from the common school branches who could get a six months license and secure a position could try to teach school. But the old and oft-repeated fallacy that just anybody can teach school has finally been repudiated. These minimum qualifications will add a certain dignity to the calling and will go a long way toward eliminating stragglers and incompetents. This in itself will attract a better class of men and women to the ranks of teaching.

The sewers are being put in on Third street and one of the I. & C. employees is working on the same.

TRIBUTE TO OUR GENERAL

Another Man Writes of the Gen. Hackleman Monument, in Muncie Star

KNEW THE SOLDIER WELL

Granville Cowing, Was Formerly
Associated With Hackleman
on the Republican

There is a movement in Indiana to erect an appropriate monument to the memory of Rush county's gallant son, General P. A. Hackleman, and Rush county people should get behind the movement and see that it materializes.

Granville Cowing, a former resident of this city, writing in last Saturday's Muncie Star, says:

"The recent articles in the Morning Star relative to Gen. Hackleman have given me much pleasure as they indicate a growing disposition in the people of Indiana to remember one of her noblest sons who in his prime gave his life to preserve the Union. For nearly nine years I was a member of his home and associated with him in the publication of the Rushville Republican and during that time learned to know and esteem him as one of the ablest and best men I ever knew. In bravery and unselfish devotion to his country his death equaled that of Leonidas at Thermopylae, yet until recently his memory seemed fading from the minds of his countrymen. He was tall, well made and of impressive and pleasing appearance. His hair was black and his eyes dark brown, and his features indicated a kind disposition and a bright intellect. He was a man of the Lincoln type anxious for the welfare of his country and elevation of the common people.

"He was chairman of the mass convention at Indianapolis which nominated the State officers elected in the fall of 1890, and was by the same convention appointed delegate for the State at large to the national Republican convention, held at Chicago, which nominated Abraham Lincoln for president, and labored actively to procure said nomination; and when made, he labored for its success with all his wonted zeal, earnestness and ability during the whole canvass of 1890.

"He was a prominent and zealous Odd Fellow and in July, 1851, by the unanimous vote of the Grand Lodge of Indiana, he was elected a representative in the Grand Lodge of the United States, and he served in this most distinguished position six years.

"He was an able orator and a ready writer. His manuscript rarely contained an erasure or an interlineation, and his spelling and punctuation were generally perfect, and 'copy' from him was as legible as print.

"It was hoped by his family, friends and thousands of the old soldiers of the State that the Army post at Indianapolis would have given his name, but that honor was bestowed on Gen. Harrison, who did not need it to assure him a place in history. I have a letter from Gen. Hackleman's oldest daughter, now dead, expressing in strong terms her indignation and humiliation because of the refusal to give the post her father's name as a recompense for his great sacrifice.

In the battle of Corinth, October 3, 1862, he was mortally wounded while riding along his lines and rallying his troops. His son-in-law, Maj. Mills, was also killed in the same battle and their bodies were met in Indianapolis by their wives, who accompanied them to Rushville.

J. M. S. Cox, a private of Co. D, 16th Ind. Vols., who was for twelve months under his command, when learning of his death, wrote as follows:

"Let others speak of him as the lawyer and statesman. How well he acquitted himself in civil life is for them to say, but when leaving all to do battle for his country, he did so bear himself as a soldier, that while almost adored as a commander, he was venerated as a father by every man in the 16th Indiana. A hero of the old Roman stamp, too seldom seen among public men. We endured no hardship he did not share; and no regiment ever loved their colonel more devotedly than the Sixteenth did P. A. Hackleman. I have seen him wrap his blanket around him in the rain and lie down to sleep on the damp ground, and when resting on the march, eating a cracker by the roadside, surrounded by a crowd of boys roaring at his jokes; or foot carrying his gun while a sick man rode his horse."

To repair the wreckage and waste of the civil war was such a task for the generation that preserved the Union, that it had but little time or means to honor its martyrs, but now when prosperity and wealth fill our land, let tardy justice be done them.

MONEY BET ON THE RACES

At Least That is Where it is Supposed to be Placed—
Dividends Paid (?)

For some time there have been stories circulating here of "bucket" men who have been working all surrounding towns. In this city there have been numerous stories but the work has been kept quiet.

In other towns efforts of these gamblers is attracting attention. At Huntington for some time the officials have been receiving reports of the operations of the company of "bucket" men who have been playing their graft in this vicinity. Several of the prominent and wealthy men have been approached on the matter and urged to invest in the "get rich quick" game. The reports from the business seem to be so favorable that some of the men approached have conceded to the agents of the company and ventured a small investment just to test the temper of the concern.

The operations of the company have been carried on in a very open manner. An agent of the company makes frequent visits and almost always has some man in mind whom he visits with a hope of getting him interested. In Andrews, where one would think that it would be almost impossible for one to pick up anyone who would undertake such a wild investment, the company has carried about $20,000 out of town. This came from men who could not afford to lose it and from men who will need every cent they make; in some instances the money which they invested was given without the knowledge of the wife at the great distress of the family merchant.

The policy of the company is to get all the funds possible and with them play the races. They have men at every track between Saratoga and the South. They only bet a small portion of the invested capital each week and send the party who gave the money a share of the dividends. The company will accept any amount over $5, and they are very prompt in sending the dividends as soon as the race is over.

To one who would be the least suspicious of their methods their way of doing business will be explained; they are always ready to enlighten at any time. They do not act overly anxious to secure funds and at times refuse money which is tendered to them. One instance of this kind in Huntington county when a farmer wanted to invest $500. This the company refused, saying that they did not want it. The farmer, not wanting to be left out of a good thing offered $2000, which was promptly taken.

It is surprising that at this day, any man with means would let his money go into such an uncertain proposition. When the money is handed over the giver does not receive the scratch of a pen to show for it, and could not recover it by law.

The law in this State and in many others forbids the operation of such companies as this and a heavy fine is imposed for anyone found guilty of so doing. The remittance made by the company are through the mails which is also a violation of the law. It is very likely that with the sentiment which is growing against this practice that some action will be taken to stop it in the near future.

TO FIGHT THE FROST

Plan is Suggested to Protect Corn Crop

Rush county farmers may be interested in the plan suggested by the Purdue experimental station to keep away frosts until a crop is harvested. It is expected to prove especially valuable to truck gardeners. The suggestion is to keep fire burning through the night to the windward of the crop to be protected. The smoke warms the atmosphere and prevents freezing. The farmer who does not find enough work to do during the day can put in the night as planned.

The case of the O. H. & D. railroad company vs. the City of Rushville in which the company filed suit for damages and injunction, is set for hearing tomorrow morning. The city attorney appeared this morning for the City of Rushville and filed a demurrer to the complaint, and a restraining order was issued by the court.

Of the race the Associated Press dispatches say: "Jennie W., on account of her splendid victory here last week was made favorite in the fast pacing stake, but the bay mare was very lame and could not land a heat, although she fought gamely to the finish. The race was won by the Indiana mare, Aileen Wilson, after Dana Patch, a daughter of the champion Dan Patch, had won two heats. The third heat was the most desperately fought of the meeting between the two mares, the finish bringing the crowd to its feet. Aileen Wilson won by an eyelash in 2:04 1/4, reducing her record a full second. She also won the next two heats in close finishes with Dana Patch and Jennie W."

WHACK AT HANLY
Federation of Labor Doesn't Like Methods of Indiana Administration.

A BITTER DENUNCIATION
In His Annual Address President Perkins Pays Compliments to the State's Chief Executive.

Recent Appointment of Factory Inspector Is the Point Upon Which Labor Leader Enlarges.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 25.—A bitter denunciation of Governor J. Frank Hanly and certain methods of his administration, and also criticism of Congressman James E. Watson of the Sixth district, were sensational features of the report of Edgar A. Perkins, president of the State Federation of Labor, before the convention in this city Monday afternoon.

President Perkins did not read his report, rather his annual message, but caused the same to be published and freely distributed in the convention hall. The message was contained in a pamphlet of about 12,000 words. Asked why he did not read the report, Mr. Perkins, whose name is attached to it, stated that it would occupy too much time and might prove a tiresome task for his listeners. He continued that its being in printed form will enable the delegates as well as the members of their respective unions to study it and make the best of it. The report was submitted to the proper committee, which passed on it.

President Perkins approached his attack on Governor Hanly and Congressman Watson with a discussion of the appointment of a factory inspector a few months ago. He leaves the impression that Hanly and Watson conspired in making a selection of an inspector to succeed D. H. McAbee of this city. The fact that President Perkins and his supporters deplored the election of Hanly is frequently reiterated in the former's message, especially at the juncture where he says: "The executive board of the Indiana Federation of Labor opposed the nomination of J. Frank Hanly for governor by the Republican party. To this time I have seen no reason why we should regret this action."

Under the heading of politics, President Perkins discussed the relation of labor to legislation and reviewed its influence. He admonished his fellows to denounce all forms of governmental regulation in the form of subsidies, wrongful use of courts, special privileges, or any of the chimerical propositions that are made in the name of labor. He said: "And let us get back to first principles, to a point where we exalt the union, where we announce that in ourselves rests the power for the correction of abuse and that we have the faith necessary to move a mountain. By using our strength for the establishment of a strong, militant movement more would be done for the benefit of a working class than can possibly come through any other method."

President Perkins also encouraged the idea of government ownership of the telegraph, saying that the strike of the telegraph operators has given great impetus to the demand for such government ownership. While speaking of the telegraphers' strike he took a rap at the companies. Here are his words: "But the strike of the telegraphers has brought forth some facts that found their way to public notice. Not only has it been found that the operators received miserable wages, but their working conditions were in many instances abominable, that men were imposed upon and women's virtue a matter of small concern."

He also reviewed the accomplishments of organized labor and told of its great strides since the convention held here eleven years ago. "Organized labor in this state at that time," he said, "was at the lowest ebb; it had been for twenty years or more. Today all this is changed. Work is plentiful, wages are fair."

MORE TESTIMONY

Uncle Sam Is Building Up a Strong Case Against Standard Oil Company.

THE TEXAS FOLKS FOOLED
How the Standard Still Took a Hand In Waters-Pierce Company After It Had Been Ousted From State.

Further Testimony Showing How Railroad Played Into Hands of Giant Corporation.

New York, Sept. 25.—Accountants of the Standard Oil company finally audited the books of the Waters-Pierce Oil company of Missouri after 1900, when its name disappeared from the list of companies controlled by the Standard, according to Wade Hampton, general auditor of the Standard Oil company, who testified in the government's suit against the oil company.

In 1900 the Waters-Pierce Oil company was prohibited from doing business in Texas under the anti-trust law because of its relations with the Standard. The Waters-Pierce company was prohibited from doing business in Texas under the anti-trust law because of its relations with the Standard. The Waters-Pierce company was prohibited from doing business in Texas under the anti-trust law because of its relations with the Standard.

The troubles of the oil firm of Lombard & Ayres in the early seventies was an interesting feature of the day's hearing. Mr. Lombard said that he had difficulties in obtaining tank cars to ship oil and that his company felt the difficulty of competing with the Standard which, he said, was receiving rebates from the trunk lines. He had two conferences with A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad, but was told that the rebates which were given the Standard did not amount to much. Mr. Cassatt, the witness said, suggested that his difficulties would doubtless cease if he united the Lombard company with the Standard. Mr. Lombard testified that he had a conference with Colonel Thomas Scott, president of the Pennsylvania, in which he was told that the Lombard company was getting all the tank cars it could obtain under the allotment. Colonel Scott, according to the witness, said the Pennsylvania railroad would not haul tank cars built by the Lombard company. Colonel Scott also expressed the opinion that the Lombard and Ayres company would do well to unite with the Standard.

Anthony L. Brady of Albany told how the Manhattan Oil company of Ohio was sold to a London company. Mr. Brady said he had no idea when the sale was made and that the company was going into the hands of the Standard Oil company.

TO TEST THE POINT
Constitutional Right of the Saloon In Question.

Indianapolis, Sept. 25.—Another case to determine whether the state has the constitutional right to grant license for saloon keepers has reached the supreme court. The parties to this action are Thomas C. Barnes et al. against Michael Wagner, residents of South Bend. The questions presented are almost identical with those raised in the case in which the supreme court recently upset the famous decision of Judge Artman of Lebanon, who held that the saloon business is inherently wrong, a menace to public morals and public health, and that the state had no authority to issue a license for business that is wrong. The complainants at South Bend remonstrated against the granting of a license to Wagner on the ground that it was wrong. The commissioners did not heed them. The St. Joseph county court decided against them and they have prepared a long appeal to the supreme court here.

If the supreme court here decides against them they will appeal to the United States supreme court. Ex-Supreme Court Judge Timothy E. Howard of South Bend; Charles F. Holler, former prohibitionist candidate for vice president, and Sumner Haynes of Portland, a Prohibition leader, are attorneys for the complainants.

The Jamestown exposition directors passed resolutions endorsing Director General James M. Barr and asking him to reconsider his resignation.

HELD ON SUSPICION

Chicago Police Believe They Have Cincinnati "Badger" Murderess.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—A woman believed to be Margaret Griffin, alias Billinate, was arrested here on suspicion of being wanted in connection with the murder of Justice Henry Richardson in Cincinnati. The woman is said to have lured Richardson into a hotel, where he is said to have been killed by a man named Castro.

Victim of Badger Game.
Cincinnati, O., Sept. 25.—Former Magistrate J. T. Singleton, an aged resident of Covington, Ky., was found tightly bound and bleeding at the nose and mouth in a room on Richman street, this city, Aug. 28, and died a few days later. Torn papers and other articles in the room suggested that he was a victim of the so-called "badger game," and the police have since been searching for the woman and two men who had used the room and were with him the night before he was discovered. The woman was known as the wife of one of the men and their home was given as Cleveland, but any identification of the second man seemed impossible. About two weeks ago the Chicago police thought they had located the couple, but an expected arrest failed to materialize, and since then nothing had been heard of the case.

A New Back for an Old One—How it is Done in Rushville

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop in agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the backache for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Rushville citizen.

Mrs. George Priest, 233 W. Third St. Rushville, Ind., says: "My husband suffered from an acute lameness in his back and every attempt to stoop or move quickly sent sharp pains through the loins. At times there were pains in the top and back of his head and he had dizzy spells. He felt unable to work and was depressed and languid. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, he went to F. B. Johnson & Company's drug store and got a box. They soon relieved him of his trouble and made him feel better in every way. He says they are the best remedy for lam back that he ever used."

MUST KEEP ITS WORD

Judge Landis Holds That "Immunity Fah" to Be Operative.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—It was decided by Judge Landis in the United States district court that the Chicago & Alton railway shall not be further prosecuted for its connection with the Standard Oil company in the granting of rebates between Whiting, Ind., East St. Louis, Ill.

It was stated by Attorney General Bonaparte, whose letter was read to the court by District Attorney Sims, that Mr. Morrison, the predecessor of Mr. Sims in office, had promised immunity to the Alton railroad provided

JUDGE K. M. LANDIS.

It assisted in good faith in the prosecution of the Standard Oil company.
The attorney general therefore said it was the duty of the government to see that no further steps toward the punishment of the railroad for its part in the granting of the rebates be taken.

The attorney general asked that the grand jury, which had been summoned at the instance of Judge Landis to investigate the Alton railroad, be discharged, and the matter be allowed to drop as far as the Chicago & Alton was concerned.

Judge Landis, in a statement which required fully thirty minutes for its delivery, declined to discharge the jury, but instructed its members that they had no further duty to perform in connection with the Chicago & Alton railroad.

The court then called attention to a statement recently issued by President Moffett of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in which it was stated that if the Standard Oil company was guilty of receiving rebates, no other manufacturer was innocent. The court directed the jury to investigate the conduct of other manufacturers and directed that a subpoena be issued for President Moffett.

Police and Deputy Sheriffs Under Fire and Charges Are Being Investigated.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—The Chicago police force and Cook county deputy sheriffs are vying with one another in a "graft" contest. Disclosures up to date award even honors. While the police have shone as the heroes of half a dozen "holdups," the deputy sheriffs are charged to have supplied opium and cocaine to prisoners and aided inmates of the jail to saw their way to liberty. As the police are in overwhelming majority, it is expected they will soon surpass their competitors and monopolize attention.

James Kostakos, a Greek fruit dealer, before Municipal Judge Pettit yesterday, testified he had been beaten and robbed of $90 by Policemen Mc-Avoy, Jennings, Steindler and Pierce.

Mrs. Nora Sullivan charges she was insulted by a policeman to whom she made complaint that she had been robbed. When she asked him to make an investigation he threatened to arrest her.

Patrolman Thomas Woodward has been discharged and awaits prosecution on the charge of having clubbed and robbed a drunken man.

Policemen Coleman and Reed are charged to have "shot up" a saloon in Western style because the proprietor argued with them.

Richard Barry, a notorious offender, is accused of buying for $20 the recommendation of a police officer for his pardon from the workhouse.

Since March, fifteen probationary officers, most of whom are under twenty-five years old and were sworn during the teamsters' strike, have been subjected to criminal charges.

Four deputy sheriffs already are under fire on account of the escape of two prisoners and the sale of postage stamps at double prices, and of opium, tobacco, whisky and cocaine to inmates of the jail.

UNABLE TO PAY

Debts Swallow Up the New York City Railway.

New York, Sept. 25.—The New York City Railway company, one of the maze of corporations formed in connection with the operation of the surface traction lines on Manhattan, was placed in the hands of a receiver on petition of creditors, and the admission by the company that it is unable to pay its debts. Douglas Robinson and Adrian H. Joline were named as receivers.

No statement of liabilities was made, but the financial statements of the company show a deficit from 1902 up to June 29 last, aggregating $6-504,000. All of the stock of the New York City Railway company is held

Marriage license have been issued by the county clerk to Claude O. Henley, a prominent young man of Carthage, who is a clerk in a retail store there, and Miss Goldie M. Lewis, one of Carthage's most popular young ladies.

A number of small boys were "teasing" T. W. Worthington near the Republican building yesterday evening, and becoming angry the honorable T. W. picked up a stone and hurled it at the boys, breaking out a window in the building.

Charles Worth, of this city, attended the Swain family reunion, which was held at the old Swain homestead southeast of Gwynneville, last Saturday, and reports one of the greatest days of his life. There were eight-five guests sat down at the sumptuous dinner.

William Robinson, the aged man who was placed in jail here recently, in a demented condition, and who was afterwards taken into custody at Greensburg, and later turned out, was placed in the Shelby county jail last night. The old man's case is a pitiable one, and some disposition should be made of him.

The remains of Miss Millie Innis, who died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Myra Moore, in Greenfield, were brought to the home of S. L. Innis in this city this morning, the funeral cortege having driven through, and the funeral services were held at the Innis residence on North Perkins street this afternoon at 1 o'clock. ## Amusements

A treat is offered at the Vaudeville theatre tonight and tomorrow night. "The Rivals," a brand new film, crowded with sixty laughs a minute, and "The Two Fowls," another laugh provoker will be shown. J. Walter Wilson will sing the illustrated topical song, "Just a Little Consolation," and "Love Me and the World is Mine." First show starts at 7:15 prompt.

About twenty-five Rushville people saw Jane Corcoran in Ibsen's "A Doll's House," in Connersville last night. The play is a problem play and the Norwegian offers a solution of a common phase of human nature.

"A Doll's House" is a story of a woman, who, though ready to sacrifice all for the man she loves gets nothing from him but sweet words and the pettings of a child. The woman wants understanding, sympathy, a wife's interest in her husband's affairs, but this the man cannot give. Though she stands ready to acknowledge a crime, committed in Love's name, the man can see only the hideousness of exposure, his shallow selfish nature causing him to shrink from the publicity expected.

When her miracle does not take place, Nora finds herself and her true relation to the man she called husband for eight years and for whom she bore three children. When she learns of her true position, that of a doll instead of a wife, she resolves to become free and a woman.

In this scene, a stormy one, Miss Corcoran reached her greatest triumph. The doll-like nature leaves her, she stands forth bold, defiant, unconventional, ready to face the world and the consequences of her act. To her husband's remonstrances she turns a deaf ear, even to his pleadings for the sake of her children she answers that she is a woman first, a mother and wife afterward.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

Science Has Now Found the True Way to cure Indigestion

A few years ago, when a sufferer from indigestion went to a stomach specialist, the result was a rigid diet list that almost meant starvation.

But the first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done as well as by taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal. This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, so that the food is digested readily and its nourishment retained in the system to build up energy and vitality.

Do not think the sick headache, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, sleeplessness and many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion, will go away of themselves. The stomach must be built and strengthened by Mi-o-na before you can be well and strong, free from suffering and distress.

The guarantee that Johnson's Store gives with Mi-o-na, to refund the remedy costs, shows their confidence in the treatment.

HERE'S WHERE THE FUN COMES IN.

Brecheisen, the Pop King, is thinking seriously of having a joke book published at the suggestion of his friends. Yesterday he was standing near the sewer work on Main street, when two ladies came along and noting "that smile that can't get off," which Breck wears, they inquired of him, "For the land's sake, what in the world are those men throwing water down on those tiles and dirt for?" "Why, that's to test the tile to see if they are water proof," said the "Fizz Foundry Founder," and the two women turned away with an exclamation of "Oh!" satisfied that they understood.
